

Press Release

ATTENTION NEWS/ HEALTH EDITORS:

St. Joseph's Health Centre welcomes baby “lucky” as our first for 2007

TORONTO, January 2, 2007 – Christina and Dominic Gangemi happily welcomed their newest family member, born 13 minutes after midnight by cesarean section on New Year’s day.

Though the couple has not chosen a first name for their baby boy, they have fondly nicknamed him “lucky” for now.

The Gangemi’s other son, Dominic, is excited about the new arrival and cannot wait to bring his new baby brother home from the hospital.

The family would like to extend a special thank you to their midwife and the staff in St. Joseph’s Labour and Delivery unit and the NICU.

-30-

Media Contact:

Sabrina Divell, Public Affairs
(416) 530-6000 ext. 4259
divels@stjoe.on.ca

St. Joseph's Health Centre is a Catholic community teaching hospital sponsored by the Catholic Health Corporation of Ontario and affiliated with the University of Toronto.

The hospital serves Toronto’s West end community with 145 family physicians and over 2,360 staff. The Health Centre’s clinical programs include Women’s, Children’s & Family Health; Surgery and Oncology Services; Emergency, Ambulatory and Access Service; Medicine & Seniors Health; Mental Health & Addictions Services and Clinical Support Services.